

The Tap by Gary Bate

Love is the answer but the tap is switched off, because we're occupied with a lower consciousness.

We are busy experiencing this illusion – busy experiencing what is not real. The tap stays off.

We get emotional because we think it's real.

We are trying to control our way through an illusion!

When we accept that it's all an illusion, we can let go and the tap turns on...

You shag a few times and you have a couple of kids. Now there's 2 more entities experiencing this illusion – that all it is. You get emotional about them because you think this is real.

The only thing that's real is unconditional love and that's what comes out of the tap...

Can we say – I AM FILLED WITH LOVE? Is it time to turn our taps on?

Love was born from truth whereas emotions were born from control. We're diddling around in a lower conscious illusion.

This realm is the manifestation of the image in the Light (the same consciousness) and the jam in the sandwich is your emotional body. Unconditional love doesn't exist here. It's above the image...

We are living the unreal lower self. The real is the higher self, which is above the Light.

Why do you think you're plagued with fantasies? Because it's not entirely your mind – there's unreal programmes at work here...

Where is healing? It's when you open the tap. Where is radiant health? It's when the tap is fully open. It takes love to heal.

Everything that you did and everything that you've judged was merely experiences for you to learn from. If you chopped someone's head off – they are still living (elsewhere) right now.

It's all an illusion.

People play happy families because their emotion is so real and that is so because they think this is real. I don't even like celebrating my birthday because we were all born a very very long time ago.

God is not involved this far down, because this far down the love has fractured into emotions...

We are here to turn our taps on and ascend the ladder...

It's not about screwing people. It's not about emotions. It's not about controlling people. These are all the illusions of the lower consciousness. Turn your tap on.

I've tried my best to communicate what I know. Please accept my gift ~ Gary.
